God Created The World By Anna Wong

For many years I have been teaching the Children Sunday School. I mainly taught the Kindergarten - 1st Grades. I have taught God's creation in Genesis many times. I am still excited and amazed how God created the world. His almighty power is beyond my imagination. And I am so honored to pass on the knowledge of these most powerful miracles into the minds of the children.

First day, God said "Let there be light." The light appeared. God did not need batteries or source of electricity. He did it with His words. He created day and night.

Second day, God said "Let there be an expanse". Then the water were separated above and below the expanse. He called the expanse heaven.

Third day, God pulled the water in one place, and the land appeared. God planted trees, vegetables, flowers and grass. In the classroom we used the green pea to demonstrate how the plant sprout and grow. Our children were assigned to take care of their plants at home.

Forth day, God created the sun, the moon and the star. Why did God create the sun when He already created light? The sun light is important to help the plant to grow. It gives us warmth. The plants that God created on third day need water, soil, and sunshine to grow healthily. The moon and the stars gives light in the dark at night time.

Fifth day, God created the birds and sea creatures. That is awesome. God can make birds fly in the air and sea creatures swim in the water. That really is fascinating.

Sixth day, God created the animals and finally God created man and woman. Why God created the animals and people last? It seems to me God has a methodical plan of creation. For example if He created the animals on the third day, all the animals will starve. The plants need time to grow. God knows our needs. We need water, air, sunshine and the nutritious food to stay healthy. Praise God for creating a beautiful world for us to enjoy.

Seventh day, God rested. God worked so hard six days. He deserved to rest. He set up a good example for us to follow. So on seventh day we should set our worldly affairs aside. We should rest and worship Him.

At each session our children recite the song: My God Is so big, so strong and so mighty that nothing my God cannot do for you.

It is my prayer that all our children will get to know our Almighty God at a deeper level through their life time journey.
